Determinants of Mental Health Service Utilisation and the Role of Health Insurance among Government and Private Sector Employees in Mogadishu, Somalia: A Cross-Sectional Survey

Published On: November 12, 2025 | Pages: 011 - 018

Author(s): Abdulrazaq Yusuf Ahmed* and Abdirahman Yusuf Ahmed

Background: The provision of health insurance within fragile, conflict-affected settings such as Somalia does not automatically guarantee improved access to essential mental healthcare services. Despite the proliferation of insurance products, especially Islamic Takaful schemes, the translation of insurance coverage into tangible service utilisation remains hindered b ...

Narcissistic and Psychopathic Leaders

Published On: May 27, 2025 | Pages: 007 - 010

Author(s): Sam Vaknin*

The narcissistic leader fosters and encourages a personality cult. It bears all the hallmarks of an institutional religion, including priesthood, rites, rituals, temples, worship, catechism, and mythology. The leader is this religion's ascetic saint. He monastically denies himself earthly pleasures (or so he claims) to be able to dedicate himself fully to his calling. ...
